Opening

We start our new year while we are still under the impact of shock that is still continuing, as in 2023 journalists faced a horrific war of genocide where they were specifically targeted and at the sight of the world.

The Palestinian press has lost more than one hundred of its journalists and media workers in less than three months, which constituted 8.5% of the Gazan journalists, while Palestinian journalists in the West Bank, Gaza, Jerusalem and occupied territories in 1948 faced more than a thousand crimes during the year, which varied with several forms, but its goal was one, which is the preventing of truth to reach out.

Palestinian Journalists have proven a legendary steadfastness in the war of genocide that was launched against them, as they continued the coverage, believing in the importance and highness of their message in conveying the truth. They were exposed to death and farewelled their colleagues day after day in the war on Gaza, while the most painful targeting was the loss of journalists for their children, parents, spouses and families in general, which made the journalism the impossible profession in light of this pain.

In these difficult circumstances, there were journalists and free people around the world standing beside us despite the painful silence of the international. Since the beginning of the war, the PJS has received great messages of support and advocacy from all over the world. While the stance of The International Federation of Journalists to support Palestinian journalists was remarkable, through launching an international fundraising campaign, which enabled the PJS in providing humanitarian and technical assistance to journalists in Gaza, in addition to the visit of the IFJ General Secretary to PJS where he met a number of media and human rights institutions in Palestine to discuss support approaches. Additionally, organizing the visit of the PJS president and the head of PJS branch in Europe to the European Parliament and the French Senate to talk about the journalists and steps required of decision makers to provide protection to journalists.

We never forget the grants awarded to PJS by its supporters and partners, and in particular, the Committee to Protect Journalists, the American Freelancers Union and the Iraqi journalist (Mona Chalabi) and affiliates and partners of the International Federation of Journalists.

Finally, we emphasize the continuation of the PJS efforts to support and protect journalists and addressing the international judiciary and the International Criminal Court to achieve Palestinian journalists' access to justice and hold the perpetrators of crimes against them accountable.

Nasser Abu Baker

President of Palestinian Journalists Syndicate

Main violations against media freedom 2023

freedoms in the year 2023:

- 102 journalists have been killed as a result of the Israeli bombing of journalists homes, offices, and in their work location.
- 13 journalists were seriously injured and disabled
- Several journalists are in need of treatment that is not available in the Gaza Strip as a result of the Israeli occupation's bombing of hospitals which still threatens their lives.
- 27 journalists were shot at or in the vicinity of their work, but were not injured.
- About 58 journalists have been arrested since October 7th in the West Bank and Gaza.
- 49 cases of attacks against journalists by settlers in the West Bank were recorded.

Killed journalists:

The report prepared by the Syndicate's Media Freedoms Committee indicated the number of 102 journalists who were killed as a result of the Israeli bombing of journalists' homes and offices or while performing their duty in media coverage. This includes 78 practitioners of journalism and 24 media support workers.

The report prepared by the PJS Freedoms Committee indicated the death toll of 102 journalists who were martyred as a result of the Israeli bombing of colleagues' homes and offices or while working in the field in media coverage.

He pointed out to a report that among the martyrs were 13 female journalist colleagues who were victims of bombings on homes, and most of them worked as correspondents for media agencies and websites, noting that a very large number of journalists' families were victims of their children being targeted as a result of the bombing.

Serious injuries

The reports mentioned a large number of injuries to journalists in the Gaza Strip, which the medical crews described as very serious. 23 journalists have been attacked by rocket fragments, causing critical wounds or obvious disabilities. At the same context, 48 bullets (including live, metal, and rubber bullets) targeted the bodies of journalists in the West Bank, most of them received treatment in hospitals.

Meanwhile, many injured journalists in Gaza are still in need of treatment that is not available in the Gaza Strip, especially after hospitals and medical crews were targeted by Israeli occupation missiles, noting that 27 journalists were subjected to gunfire without being injured.

Arrests

The Israeli occupation arrested about 58 journalists since October 7 in the West Bank and Gaza, the arresting action included storming homes, destroying furniture, confiscating journalists' equipment and cellular communication devices, in addition to assaulting them and their family members.

The majority of detained journalists are still in detention without trial, or even without knowing their fate, especially two journalists in the Gaza Strip who we consider missing.

Additionally, 16 journalists were summoned by the Israeli occupation intelligence, while 57 journalists were subject to unfair military courts, and some of them were subject to high financial fines.

Settler attacks

The PJS monitored 49 incidents of crimes and attacks by settlers against journalists, most of which occurred in the presence of the occupation army forces, that provided them with protection to carry out all these attacks. The settlers also recorded a number of threats, which reached 23 incidents.

Confiscating and destroying journalists' equipment

38 incidents of targeting journalistic work equipment by destroying them, either with bullets or by beating and kicking were recorded, while the Israeli occupation army did not hesitate to confiscate journalists' equipment without even giving any notice of that.

Targeting media institutions

The report said that 80 press and media institutions were targeted by bombing, total and partial destruction, as well as storming and closing, and about 9 Palestinian printing presses in the West Bank were stormed and their contents seized. Meanwhile, 91 journalists' homes were stormed by the occupation army.

Media institutions, such as the premises and offices of satellite channels, news agencies, newspapers, and radio stations, were directly targeted by Israeli missiles.

Detention and prevention of coverage

Among the most serious and repeated violations in years, according to the records, was the detention of journalists, preventing them from performing their duty, and covering up under threats, 314 related incidents were monitored and documented.

Additionally, the Israeli occupation soldiers targeted journalists by firing tear gas bombs for the purpose of harming them, causing them to suffocate and intimidate them. This type of targeting developed to targeting the bodies of journalists with these bombs, as 35 of them were injured, while 90 of their colleagues suffocated.

Enforced disappearance

The PJS reported the disappearance of journalists Nidal Al-Wahidi and Haitham Abdel-Wahed from Gaza Strip, where the occupation is keeping their fate unrevealed.

Steps forward

Despite the difficult circumstances that journalists went through and the great burden placed on the Palestinian Journalists Syndicate as it is their protective and representative body, the PJS made several efforts at all local, regional and international levels to mobilize solidarity, legal and financial support for journalists, which had an impact in disseminating the message of journalists and their suffering around the world and issuing support stances and sending aid. In continuation of the PJS role in facing violations and crimes against journalists, the PJS will continue the following steps in 2024:

1. Continue to issue reports and updates regularly and circulate them widely.
2. Judicial prosecution of the Israeli occupation government and army in international courts, specially, the International Criminal Court, in coordination and cooperation with partners.
3. Continue to mobilize financial support and aid for journalists
4. Providing professional safety equipment by establishing a loan system for safety equipment for journalists (especially freelancers) through a loan and return system in order to benefit the largest number of journalists and to seek fundraising for this program
5. Holding journalists safety courses and legal documentation of violations and crimes committed against journalists
